Support for Opal Australian Paper workers

Delivered by ForestWorks

Workers affected by the white side manufacturing stand downs can now access immediate information and support via dedicated Worker Assistance Coordinators.

Despite a lot of uncertainty, please make sure you register so that we can keep you up to date with what's happening.

ForestWorks

How to access the Opal Worker Support Service

Scan the QR Code

Visit ForestWorks.com.au

Call on 1800 177 001 Email wsp@forestworks.com.au

Support for Opal Australian Paper workers

ForestWorks are delivering immediate support to Opal Australian Paper workers affected by white side manufacturing stand downs and any future operational changes through the Opal Worker Support Service while long-term arrangements are being finalised.

Any worker who is made redundant will be eligible for:

- Intake and case management services
- Training support including funded training
- Employment assistance services including the utilisation of Jobs Victoria Services and Skills and Jobs Centres
- Mental health and wellbeing support
  - Opal Australian Paper workers can follow existing EAP procedures (by calling EAP Australia on 1300 361 008)
  - Mental health and wellbeing support is also available directly from the below organisations and your Worker Assistance Coordinator can help you make contact with other providers:
    - Head to Health
    - Lifeline Gippsland (Morwell-based)
    - Relationships Australia (Traralgon-based)

Workers can register now via the ForestWorks website

Scan the QR Code
Visit ForestWorks.com.au

Call on 1800 177 001 Email wsp@forestworks.com.au

ForestWorks